YOUR BUSINESS GRASP—

Is it broad enough?

The present day accountant to succeed in a big way must know more than ledgers and figures—He must know economics, law, finance, management, markets. Superficiality means mediocrity.

The accounting courses at New York University, School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance are especially planned to make business men of its graduate accountants.

Work leading to degree of B.C.S. may be taken either day or evening. There need be no interference with present employment.

Send today for accounting bulletin No. 1016, describing courses in detail.

Address personally,

Major B. Foster, Secretary,
